

Why Bank of Quincy?

"Every customer is able to receive personal service in a friendly and comfortable atmosphere."

- Marcia Hardin, VP

Marcia Hardin

- Vice President

"We're large enough for all of your needs and small enough to offer outstanding service."

With over 25 years of banking experience in both Missouri and Illinois and agriculture and commercial lending, odds are that Marcia Hardin can help you figure things out.

She will also be the first to admit that things are much different than they were in the last couple of decades. Today's small businessman and family-farmer relies heavily on technology and innovation.

Because of that dependency, it is essential that loan customers have a strong comfort level with both their Banker and their bank's products. Bank of Quincy prides itself on staying on the cutting edge of emerging technology both in the types of products offered, as well as, in the latest type of delivery available.

Having been raised on a farm and involved in two family businesses, Marcia is recognized as one of the premier agri-business lending officers in the Tri-State area. Her first-hand knowledge and experience with several government agencies arms her with a level of expertise not usually found in communities of this size.

Why Bank of Quincy?

Because of people like Marcia Hardin.
